AOC Nouveaux wines can only travel after the ‘release from property’ date. They can be taken in charge after that date by wholesalers, carriers, logistics warehouses, retailers, etc.

They can’t not be delivered to private customers before the third Thursday of November; 12am.

To guarantee the embargo, the sender can ask a contract from the operator in charge of the wines before the third Thursday of November under the form of an additional letter added to the legal paperwork. All the expedition must be made under the respect of usual rules of release, circulation, and the sales of excise products.
